A global day for workers' rights

Mayday 2009

On Mayday we remember the Haymarket martyrs who died fighting for the introduction of the 8-hour day. Over 100 years later we still find ourselves in constant struggle for our rights as workers. The labour market pits us against one another but together in solidarity we are stronger than they could possibly imagine. Workers of all nations, unite!

Join the Trade Union March!

Assemble at 12pm
Saturday 2nd May
Arts College, York St.
